TITLE: Doris Rhodes Scrapbooks

COLLECTION NUMBER: B2011.011

OVERVIEW OF THE COLLECTION

Dates: 1942-2013

Extent: 30 scrapbooks, 2 boxes; 30.5 linear feet

Language and Scripts: The collection is in English.

Name of creator(s): The majority of original photographs were taken by Doris Rhodes and Vida Nye. See descriptions of individual books for additional photographers. Generally, credits have not been noted for postcard photographers or text authors.

Administrative/Biographical History:

Doris Nye Rhodes and Glen Rhodes co-owned a sawmill on the Oregon coast for eight years, then shipped the mill to Anchorage in 1955. In Alaska, they opened Bird Creek Sawmill on Turnagain Arm with Thurston Nye. After selling the sawmill, Glen found employment with the Anchorage School District, where he worked for more than 20 years at the school bus garage, retiring as foreman. He drove over the Alaska Highway many times, delivering school buses to Anchorage. Doris worked for the Air Force, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and the Bureau of Land Management. Glen and Doris had three children: Glenda, Karen Sue, and Mark. Glen died in 2000; Doris moved back to Oregon in 2018.

Vida Nye arrived in Anchorage in 1942 with her husband, Thurston Nye. The couple had been living in Toledo, Oregon, where Thurston worked at a sawmill. The two spent three months establishing residency in Alaska before being allowed to work; Thurston spent the three months working for alcohol supplier Milt Odom. Vida soon found work at Ft. Richardson in hangar D-47, where materiel for the war in the Aleutians was received and shipped out. Vida and Thurston stayed in Anchorage until 1946, when they drove out the Alaska Highway. The couple returned in 1955 and died in Anchorage, Vida in January 1978 and Thurston in August 1979.

Scope and Content Description:

The collection consists of 30 scrapbooks, each measuring approximately 14.5" x 12" and up to 6" thick, containing original photographic prints (color and black-and-white) and negatives, clippings, postcards, leaflets and pamphlets, manuscripts, maps, correspondence, identification cards, business cards, greeting cards, buttons and pins, coasters, napkins, matchbook covers, tickets, patches, decals, receipts, checks, napkins, posters, rye grass and unidentified pressed flora, qiviut, bear fur, porcupine quills, feathers, and chocolate candies. Materials date from 1942 to 2013, and were collected and arranged by Doris Rhodes, who took the majority of the original photographs. Original photographs by other individuals, most notably Rhodes' mother Vida Nye, are also included. Items are generally arranged by location or subject. In addition to books filled with material on various Alaska towns and villages, there are two books on Alaska generally, three books on Anchorage, one book on the Rhodes' work life, one on World War II, one on shows and entertainment in Alaska and Oregon, and one on general world events. Loose materials, including 130 black-and-white prints, 88 color prints, and 44 color 35mm slides, were added in 2018. For more information, see Detailed Description of Collection.

Arrangement: Scrapbooks numbered internally as individual series. Loose images numbered as series 31, and arranged by format, subject, and date.

CONDITIONS GOVERNING ACCESS AND USE

Restrictions on Access: The collection is open for research use.

Physical Access: Original items in good condition.

Technical Access: No special equipment is needed to access the materials. Book cradles required for scrapbooks.

Conditions Governing Reproduction and Use:

The Anchorage Museum is the owner of the materials and makes available reproductions for research, publication, and other uses. Written permission must be obtained from the Anchorage Museum before any reproduction use. The Anchorage Museum does not necessarily hold copyright to all of the materials in the collections. In some cases, permission for use may require seeking additional authorization from the copyright owners.

- .43 – As cold as it looks! [Vida Nye ice fishing, Fire Lake, 1940s]

.44 – Finger Lake, me & Alma, was so hot a sunsuit woulda been good, 1944 to '46 [Vida Nye and another woman posed next to log building]

.45 – Thurston, taken in Anchorage, Alaska, his whiskers were for some celebration, 1946 [Thurston Nye leaning against Jeep, holding car part, photographer's shadow in foreground, probably Elmendorf Field]

.46 – Ft. Rich, EDF, 1945 [winter view across yard to large warehouses, Chugach Mountains in distance]

.47 – T. Nye & bear kill, 1944-46 [Thurston Nye posed with rifle and black bear carcass in brush]

.48 – Killed with T's gun [on verso:] 1944-46 [Thurston posed with rifle and brown bear on gravel road. Cf. .103]

.49 – Thurston Nye, 1950s (late), at Bird Creek lbr co. on T. Arm, owner w/ Glen Rhodes [Thurston posed at Rhodes' sawmill on Turnagain Arm near Bird Creek, saw at right, cut timber in background]

.50 – Vida & Thurston taken in front of Doris' house in Corvallis at the end of their journey, caribou bones on top of trailer [Vida and Thurston Nye posed with trailer painted with "Alaska to Oregon via Alcan", antlers in trailer, houses in background, 1940s]

.51 – Alcan, typical, except along miles & miles of it a pipeline (oil) runs alongside of the road. Some of the northern sections has a pipeline on each side of the road, one Canol line & one American that crosses Canada. 1955 August [view down gravel Alaska Highway]

.52 – Graves at Champagne, YT [First Nations cemetery with spirit houses, 1955. Cf. .86]

.53 – Watson Lake, all log settlement, real nice. Hotel at end & gorge to the right. I got a good slide here of an Indian boy playing. 1955 August [street scene, with buildings, automobiles, and BF Goodrich Tires sign at right. Cf. .82]

.54 – Sheep Mt. Lodge, Jessie Nye, 1950 [woman and dog standing in snow next to sign reading "Hunters Planes for the Game Country", Sheep Mountain Lodge]

.55 – Sheep Mt. Lodge, 1950s (early) [young girl playing with dog in snow next to log cabins, Sheep Mountain Lodge]

.56 – Glen & Doris Rhodes, 1955, Anchorage, AK, Chet Goodman's garage in back [Glen and Doris posed outdoors]
[Images .57-76 in Snapfolio binder labeled "1955 August photos by Glenda Rhodes (8th grade) coming to Anc to live"]

.57 – This is part of the beautiful Fraser River canyon in British Columbia [scenic]

.58 – More Fraser Canyon [scenic]

.59 – Black is Glenda's view of the inside of the car as she shot out the windows. This is Fraser Canyon & if you look hard there is 2 railway bridges. In this narrow part they each cross over to the other side at this point somewhat in that manner [diagram]. Quite a site. One railway went in the canyon & crossed over here. Later another railway came down the remaining side of the canyon & no place to go so it was forced to go across the river at the same place, no more room [distant view of perpendicular railroad trestle bridges over canyon]

.60 – Close to Boston Bar, B.C., where Chuck Hampton's mill is. In the general area of the place Neva & Harry Lawson want to go to live. Fraser Canyon [scenic of mountain, hood of automobile in foreground]

- .61 – This is out of timbered country on Thompson River Canyon, B.C. You go up the Fraser & turn off on the Thompson [diagram]. Some kind of river but scenery changes like going over Cascades to Eastern Oregon [scenic of river]
- .62 – Glenda was fascinated by these old fences, B.C. [log fences with tripod supports in fields]
- .63 – Canada, B.C., rail fence. Stopped here (close) & ate in a ranch yard under trees & they had a Siamese cat too. We had mom's 2 seal point Siamese cats [log fence in fields]
- .64 – Caribou Hiway, log house, mud chinks [log cabin on Cariboo Highway]
- .65 – Old log hotel with a past. About to be torn down to straighten the road. My tie rods broke here & we taped them together & I drove 40 more miles to a town for repairs [three-story log roadhouse on dirt highway]
- .66 – One of few falls seen from road, fireweed in bloom in foreground. My slide of this is beautiful [scenic near Peterson Creek, milepost 444.9]
- .67 – These are the milepost signs on the Alcan. No. 1 starts at Dawson Creek, B.C., and goes 1,2,3 to Fairbanks, 1500 miles. Same thing on Glenn Hiway from Anchorage to Tok Junction on the Alcan only the Glenn Hiway is numbered from Anchorage to Tok [Alaska Highway mile marker 250]
- .68 – Can't remember where this was but was pretty. We had just crossed the bridge & come up a steep hill & then could turn out & see for miles where we had been [bird's eye view of river, Alaska Highway bridge in middle ground]
- .69 – This is Muncho Lake, high in mts. & cold, deep, has most beautiful color like Crater Lake. One of most scenic places on Alcan. Ate lunch here & water was just barely above freezing. Depth unknown in places [scenic view down highway, lake on left]
- .70 – Alcan was built from both ends to middle. This is it – differences in distance was result of different terrain to build on & one end went further than other one [girl holding camera standing next to interpretive marker at Contact Creek, milepost 588.1]
- .71 – This is the drydocked sternwheel fleet out of the Yukon at Whitehorse, Y.T. Almost exactly like Mississippi riverboats, all out of use now & mouldering in decay [four paddle steamers in dry dock]
- .72 – This is largest & most decrepit boat – Yukoner – has most historic past of all. On one side the narrow gauge from Skagway can be seen. My slides here aren't very good. It was grey murky weather & these are better than the slides [paddle steamer Yukoner in dry dock, Whitehorse]
- .73 – Another shot of the "Yukoner." Actually the river at Whitehorse is not the Yukon but the Lewes River that flows into the Yukon. The Alcan never touches the real Yukon so to humor the tourist trade they renamed the tributary the Yukon so people could have the thrill of seeing the famed river [paddle steamer Yukoner in dry dock]
- .74 – This is the Aksala (Alaska backwards). Notice gingerbread on pilothouse. Don't draw much water [paddle steamer Aksala in dry dock]
- .75 – Here is the sternwheel, orange colored, boats towed the barges with cargo & firewood aboard them [close-up of paddle on paddle steamer in dry dock]
- .76 – Mosquito country, millions of them. Notice shape of spruce, real thin [scenic of creek, gravel highway visible in background]
- [Images .77-92 in Snapfolio binder labeled "These are the pictures Betty took on the way up, Aug. 1955"]

.77 – Siamese cat “rest” stop – our caravan line. In Washington [four vehicles stopped on roadside]

.78 – This is customs (Canadian) at Huntingdon, B.C. – Sumas is across the street & is the U.S. customs [exterior of customs building]

.79 – This one is painful. The truck’s ready to be all unloaded at Canadian customs at B.C. (Sumas). Spent about 3 hours here clearing customs. Had to list each box & item on truck & then they unloaded some of it to check & see if we were lying. They were nice but firm. No unloading the other 3. Just the truck. Would have it sealed shut if it had been a van type body & no unloading but we lived to learn [truck back up to small warehouse building at Canadian customs]

.80 – Fraser Canyon [scenic]

.81 – Dusty Alcan. Am sorry none of the pictures show the oil pipelines along side of the highway. The Canol line goes hundreds of miles along the road & then later the bigger line is the new American line that crosses some of Canada. Both end at Fairbanks [view down gravel Alaska Highway]

.82 – Watson Lake. All new log bldgs., really scenic. Hotel in distance & garage to right. Got a slide of a little Indian boy playing here that is real good [street scene, with buildings, automobiles, and BF Goodrich Tires sign at right. Cf. .53]

.83 – Watson Lake trading post. Fur pelts, groceries, snowshoes, regular general store. Fox furs waiting for shipment were really lovely [view across road to log building]

.84 – This is the gov. bldg. at Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, Canada. Houses post office & gov. offices. Serves as a capitol building. Only 2 yrs old as Dawson City used to be the territory capitol & 2 yrs ago Whitehorse was named capitol. Canadian flag in front [view across street to building]

.86 – Athabasca Indian cemetery at Champagne, Y.T., Canada. Indians believed & still do that spirits of deceased stay in houses till they go to heaven. Even food is put inside. Brand new graves had tents on them until a house could be constructed. A sign on the road tells of this – don’t miss it when you come up. No charge [First Nations cemetery with spirit houses. Cf. .52]

.87 – I got snapped taking a picture. Notice the curtains & size of houses – fat spirits maybe? Karen Sue (left) & Glenda Rhodes (grades 4 & 8) [Doris in right foreground using camera to take photograph of daughters posed in front of spirit houses, Champagne]

.88 – This is really a wilderness church – at Kluane Lake – or Burwash Landing is the name of French Indian settlement. Is nice hotel here & log restaurant. That’s all beside the mission. People all speak French better than English & the mission is a school for Indians of Athabasca stock. Has a lovely shrine outside not shown in picture. Here we were served oatmeal mush for breakfast & no milk except evaporated milk. Burwash Landing is a trapper Indian stopover on the lake chain – trappers come here by boat with canoes loaded with furs. Lots of Athabasca Indians in crude living conditions around here [exterior of log building with steeple, sign for Catholic Mission in front]

.89 – Just a mt. at what they call Summit. Is a roadhouse here & restaurant [scenic of Stone Mountain]

- .90 – Everlasting snows [scenic of mountains as seen from highway]
- .91 – Rite in middle of mts in distance is Tazlina Glacier. Looks much closer in real life. My slide here is really pretty. The foreground is solid red fireweed [scenic of mountains and glacier]
- .92 – Matanuska Glacier. Black is glacier too, with dirt on it. Road goes near this & scenery is out of this world. Notice thin spruce trees [distant view of glacier]
- [Images .93-99 in Chace Photo binder labeled “Fall 1955 bunny hunt near Eureka on rd to Glennallen, AK”]
- .93 – Snowshoe rabbit hunting at Glennallen, Alaska, Sue & Glen under all the wrappings, 1955 [Karen Sue and Glen Rhodes posed outdoors in winter, both holding dead rabbits, Glen holding rifle]
- .94 – Dog team, malamutes I think [two dogs in harness next to building]
- .95 – My how we’ve aged! In our living & dining & bed & utility and sewing room, Jan. 1956 [Glen and Doris Rhodes posed in house]
- .96 – So help me she hasn’t a gold tooth! Jan. 1956 snowfall at Anchorage, Alaska. Record for years, between 3 & 4 ft. on the level. Glenda Rhodes, 8th grade [girl posed outdoors in winter wearing short-sleeved shirt, house and Bucyrus-Erie equipment in background, winter of 1955-1956 record snowfall]
- .97 – Won’t be long until she’s taller! Sue took this. See spots in ceiling where drips have stained from snow condensing & melting – boy, that was the day [Glen, Doris, and Glenda Rhodes posed in house]
- .98 – I got as far off as possible. Thermometer on wall [Glen, Karen Sue, and Glenda Rhodes seated at table in house, reading comics page in newspaper]
- .99 – Glenda & Sally Watkins. Sally is our minister’s niece. Our new piano. Glenda has on her blue beaded sweater, an Xmas present. Nearly all our bedroom shows! [two girls seated at piano, hair dryer in background]
- .100 – Jackie Goodman’s soap box derby racer, placed 6th in field of 34 racers. Named 22-B Jr. after Chet’s big 22-B [Bucyrus Erie] crane, 1956 [boy sitting in soap box derby car, houses in background]
- .101 – Airplane at Tanacross runway, autocross [Cessna 170B airplane tail number N4448B in field. Negative taped to verso]
- .102 – At rest. Was casing in well. Made a room right over the well [Thurston and Vida Nye in yard with lumber, house in background. Print cut out of album]
- .103 – Note Cliff’s shadow, the picture was taken about 11:30 in evening [Thurston posed with rifle and brown bear on gravel road, photographer’s shadow in foreground. Print cut out of album. Cf. .48]
- .104 – Alma, Thurston & Chet on dock at Finger Lake, 1944. Alma & Chet Goodman. Chet ran craning business & Alma is my cousin [Thurston Nye with couple on dock, Chet holding fishing rod. Print cut out of album]
- .105 – Glacier in distance. Looking up Knik. The hazy place in center is the Knik Glacier, a number of miles away [scenic of Knik River. Print cut out of album]
- .106 – Me, Thurston, Chet & Alma Goodman, dolly varden fish at Finger Lake [Vida and Thurston Nye with couple holding pole with several fish. Print cut out of album]
