OVERVIEW OF THE COLLECTION

Dates: 1947-1948

Extent: 4 boxes; 1.6 linear feet

Language and Scripts: The collection is in English.

Name of creator(s): Don Horter

Administrative/Biographical History:

Don Horter was a professional photographer and filmmaker in the Pacific Northwest and Alaska. Between the mid-1940s and the mid-1960s, he did commercial photography and films for several Alaska-based companies and governmental agencies, including Alaska Freight Lines, Northern Consolidated Airlines, Pan American Airways, and Wien Airlines. He worked with pilot Ray Petersen and the National Park Service to popularize sport fishing in Alaska, primarily in Katmai National Park. His Alaskan films include Fish On (1948), Alaska (1952), Bulldog Convoy in the Arctic (1955), Wheels to the Arctic (1955), Alaska: our pioneer heritage (1956), and Angler's Paradise (1959). In 1959, Don and his son Eric started Don Horter Productions in Oregon. Don Horter died in 1971 in Eugene, Oregon.

Shortly after the trip featured in these images, Petersen hired Horter to work on a public relations campaign for Northern Consolidated Airlines and the Angler's Paradise fishing camps. For information on the partnership between Ray Petersen and Don Horter, see Bo Bennett, Rods & Wings (Anchorage: Publication Consultants, 2000). For information on the early development of Brooks, Kulik, Battle and other camps in the Katmai area, see Frank B. Norris,

Tourism in Katmai Country (Anchorage, Alaska: National Park Service Alaska Regional Office, 1992).

Scope and Content Description:

The collection consists of 200 commercial color glass lantern slides produced by Don Horter. The images primarily depict fly-in fishing at sites in the Katmai area as well as other locations around the state. There are also numerous scenics and images from villages in Western Alaska.
