TITLE: Tisdel White Mountain Government School Collection

COLLECTION NUMBER: B2002.011

OVERVIEW OF THE COLLECTION

Dates: circa 1919-1929

Extent: 1 box; 0.2 linear feet

Language and Scripts: The collection is in English.

Name of creator(s): V.B., I.N.

Administrative/Biographical History:
White Mountain was established on the site of the Inupiat fish camp called Nutchirviq. The town grew after an influx of prospectors during the gold rush of 1900. A government-subsidized orphanage was built at White Mountain, and was converted to an industrial school in 1926. A post office was opened in 1932. The city government was incorporated in 1969.¹

Nothing was known about the creator of the album at the time of processing. Based on the image captions, it is likely that the creator was a teacher at the White Mountain school who traveled up the Inside Passage to reach Alaska. Several images are signed with the initials “V.B.” and one with the surname “Burlingame.” This is Victor Burlingame whose related collection was gifted to the Museum by the estate of his son, Dr. William Burlingame, in November 2021.

Scope and Content Description:
The collection consists of 258 black-and-white photographs and three photomechanical prints mounted on album pages. The images primarily depict students and activities at the government school in White Mountain. For more information, see Detailed Description of Collection.
