TITLE: Lee 349th Engineer Regiment Aleutian Campaign Album

COLLECTION NUMBER: B2009.046

OVERVIEW OF THE COLLECTION

Dates: circa 1941-1955, bulk 1941-1944

Extent: 1.25 linear feet

Language and Scripts: The collection is in English.

Name of creator(s): George C. Lee?

Administrative/Biographical History:
The 349th Engineer General Service Regiment of the U.S. Army was activated at Camp Claiborne, Louisiana, on 13 May 1942. The unit arrived at the New York point of embarkation on 27 July 1942 and departed that location on 5 September 1942. The unit arrived in Seattle on 10 September 1942 and departed that location for Alaska on 21 September, arriving at Fort Mears, Alaska, six days later on 27 September. The Regiment moved to Adak, Alaska on 3 February 1943 and then on to Fort Glenn, on Umnak Island, on 28 June 1944. On 6 November 1944, they arrived back at Seattle and from there transferred back to Camp Claiborne, Louisiana, arriving on 14 November 1944. The 349th Engineer General Service Regiment was disbanded on 12 March 1945.

Both items of correspondence are addressed to Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lee of Port Arthur, Texas. George C. is listed as brother of Linton Wayne Lee, Sr. (d. 1955).

Scope and Content Description:
The collection consists of one photograph album, 10.5 x 13.5 inches, containing 135 mounted photographs, 11 loose photographs, two pieces of correspondence, and newspaper clippings. Photographs depict scenes from the 349th Engineers Regiment, U.S. Army, on duty in the Aleutian Islands during World War II. Clippings document the deaths of Linton Wayne Lee, Sr., and Norman Woodrow Roebuck, both of Port Arthur, in 1955.

Arrangement: Not applicable

SUBJECTS

Detailed Description of the Collection

.1 – [unidentified serviceman standing next to vehicle]
.2 – [Lee standing next to Quonset hut]
.3 – This was taken on Xmas day and I was about as blue as this picture looks [Lee standing next to Quonset hut]
.4 – [Aleutian coastline]
.5 – [Lee in summer]
.6 – [Lee in winter]
.7 – [group of soldiers standing outside Quonset hut with sign for 349th Engineer Regiment, Lee in front]
.8 – [entrance to building dug out of deep snow]
.9 – [trucks clearing snow from roadway]
.10 – [Lee standing in snow; rooftop visible behind him]
.11 – [tents and Quonset huts of military base]
.12 – Building almost covered with snow [stairs and entrance to Quonset hut dug out of deep snow]
.13 – [buildings, tents and Quonset huts of military base]
.14 – [trucks on road along coastline]
.15 – [Lee digging]
.16 – [same as #9]
.17 – [Quonset hut in deep snow]
.18 – [same as #11]
.19 – Digging a building out that is completely covered with snow [group of servicemen in snow]
.20 – [vehicle and pedestrian traffic on road leading up from military base; buildings and Quonset huts in distance]
.21 – The fellow in this pic is the brother of Dub Galyian. He was supposed to know that I worked with Dub at the con co. I’m sure that Jack Dowdy knows this boy, maybe Geo. Merwin [Lee and Galyian sitting at table in Quonset hut]
.22 – [tractor on road, with military base in distance]
.23 – May 24, 1944 [group of servicemen posed in snow]
.24 – These two pictures [#24, #26] are of a party in our hut on a Saturday nite. It so happened that I was C.Q. and couldn’t join in the fun. It wasn’t as bad as it looks. Tell [Mervola?] to show these two pictures to Henry. [group of servicemen drinking beer in Quonset hut]
.25 – Taken just at quitting time [Lee standing outside Pacific hut]
.26 – [see description for #24]
.27 – [Lee and serviceman standing next to truck]
.28 – [buildings, tents, and Quonset huts of military base]
.29 – [l-r] A visitor, Spelgis, Raymond Morelock, John Ard. The guy that you don’t see is me taking the picture. The group picture that included me didn’t turn out good at all.
.30 – [Lee standing in front of two decorated cakes]
.31 – Chaplain [Richard B.] Cheatham [standing in front of cakes]
.32 – Donald Braziale & yours truly. That name Braziale reminds me of someone?? [men in front of cakes]
.33 – There isn’t any snow but the wind is plenty cold [Lee with base buildings behind]
.34 – I’m trying to do something about keeping warm [Lee with gasoline can]
.35 – [Lee in front of Quonset hut]
.36 – Res. Eng. Lab [two men inside Quonset hut]
37 – [servicemen gathered at base cemetery]
38 – Don’t you think that bald head of mine stands out in this picture [Lee carrying sack]
39 – [Lee and unidentified serviceman]
40 – Navy Nov. ’43 [unidentified Aleutian volcano]
41 – I was cold [Lee standing next to Pacific hut]
42 – I wasn’t in any mood for taking pictures that day as the wind was really cold [Lee standing behind sign for 349th Engineers Regimental Chapel]
43 – Another Aleutian scene [truck traveling down road along coast]
44 – Regimental insignia
45 – We have eagles just like the one in the picture. I don’t know whether or not this was taken here. I bought it at the P.X. I think it is a nice picture.
46 – Just another camp scene in the dead of winter. I have had this picture for quite some time.
47 – The wee house among the tundra, my roosting place [Pacific hut]
48 – [buildings, tents, and Quonset huts of base in snow]
49 – [smoking volcano, Aleutians]
50 – [smoking volcano, Aleutians]
51 – [volcano, Aleutians]
52 – [sunrise or sunset, Aleutians]
53 – [group portrait, 349th Engineer Regiment]
54 – Guess who? [Lee outside base building]
55 – John Ard & myself in the door of our hut
56 – [serviceman wading in ocean]

77 – [waterfall]
78 – [waterfall]
79 – [tall rock outcropping]
I just reached down and picked this salmon out of the creek.

Plenty of snow in Aug.

Snow in Aug. Believe it or not I have a snowball.

Lots of snow and ashes

I think that this is the best view of the lava beds. The two G.I.’s are Guster DeSpain the tall one and John Frank Rayburn.

Notice the fox’s white tail. Some are tame enough to eat out of your hand.

Looking toward Bering Sea [river with snags and debris]

Coates River. I thought I was out of the picture but I see I wasn’t [pedestrian and vehicle bridges over river]
.122 – [wooden buildings and utility poles]
