TITLE: Morgan Sherwood Gold Rush Ephemera Collection

COLLECTION NUMBER: B1995.031

OVERVIEW OF THE COLLECTION

Dates: 1897-1995

Extent: 2 boxes; 2 linear feet

Language and Scripts: The collection is in English.

Name of creator(s): Morgan Sherwood

Administrative/Biographical History:
Morgan Sherwood donated the collection in 1995-97 with the intention that it be used as part of a gold rush centennial exhibition that was being planned by the museum for the summer of 1997. Correspondence in the museum’s donor file includes “an abbreviated ‘script’ for an exhibit of these items” titled “Images and artifacts of popular culture from the Klondike-Alaska Gold Rushes” (Morgan Sherwood to Diane Brenner, November 22, 1995).

Morgan Bronson Sherwood was born Oct. 22, 1929, in Anchorage and spent the first 19 years of his life here, graduating from Anchorage High School in 1947. He earned his master’s and doctorate degrees in history from the University of California at Berkeley.

Sherwood held teaching positions at the University of Maryland, the University of Cincinnati and the University of California Davis, the latter from 1965 to 1991, when he retired. While at U.C. Davis, he helped edit the journal Agricultural History for many years, served as editorial adviser to half a dozen scholarly journals and book publishers and was a member of or an advisory board appointee to a number of organizations devoted to the American West and environmental history.

Sherwood was the author of several books about Alaska and its history including Exploration of Alaska, 1865-1900, which was selected for The Alaska 67: A Guide to Alaska’s Best History Books by the Alaska Historical Society in 2006. He also wrote Big Game in Alaska: A History of Wildlife and People, and The Cook Inlet Collection: Two Hundred Years of Selected Alaskan History. He was an editorial advisor for Alaska Journal and Alaska History. In 1983, he received an honorary degree from the University of Alaska Fairbanks. In addition to his research in American science and technology, the American West and Alaska, and environmental history, he maintained a lifelong interest in magic and quackery and their histories. Sherwood and his wife Jeanie built a cabin at Halibut Cove across Kachemak Bay from Homer and for three decades, spent their summers there. Morgan Sherwood died of cancer in Davis, California, on October 31, 2000 and at his request, his ashes were distributed over Kachemak Bay.²
