Name of creator(s): William C. Ray, Frances Ray

Administrative/Biographical History:
Frances E. Ray (née Pickolick) was born on 16 February 1921 in Grangeville, Idaho to Elizabeth and Frank Pickolick. She relocated to Alaska in 1944 and worked at Fort Richardson as a secretary for Bill Ray. They were married on 20 May 1945. Frances went on to teach at Anchorage High School (later West High School) and retired in 1976. Frances also worked for a period of time as the registrar at the Anchorage Community College. She was an avid volunteer in her later years at the Anchorage Museum and the Anchorage Convention and Visitor Bureau. She passed away on 17 August 2005.¹

William “Bill” C. Ray was born in Gough, Texas on 3 November 1916 to Nason and Fern Cornelius Ray. Bill moved to Alaska in 1939, and served as a civilian employee in the Depot Supply at Fort Richardson during World War II.² He joined the U.S. Air Force Civil Service, and worked as a property administrator for the White Alice project from its beginning until his retirement in 1973. According to his obituary, he was an avid photographer and enjoyed collecting photographic slides of Alaska. He passed away on 3 April 1994.³

Both Frances and Bill were proud to live in Alaska, and enjoyed traveling to the “Lower 48” and abroad as often as possible.⁴

Scope and Content Description:
The collection consists of 2915 35mm slides taken by Bill and Frances Ray during their travels through Alaska and Western Canada from the 1940s through the 1990s, as well as photographs taken by Bill during his work on White Alice radar sites in the 1950s and 1960s. The series begins with 93 numbered and captioned slides, presumably selected by Bill Ray for a slideshow. For more information, see Detailed Description of Collection.
