Scope and Contents

The Charles Carter Collection includes photographs taken by photographers Lomen, Nellany, Clemons, and Huey. The collection is divided into four subject folders, Flat and Flat Creek, Iditarod, Circle City Hot Springs, and a miscellaneous folder. The photos of Flat and Flat Creek include Gold Avenue in Flat City, Hotel Drummond (showing Dr. Charles Carter and his wife Anna), St. Patrick's Mask Ball, photos of Flat City in 1911 and 1912, as well as mining in Flat Creek. The Iditarod folder consists of scenes of Iditarod, Alaska as well as several photographs of sled dogs and the St. Patrick's Day Race. There are photos of the Iditarod fire in April of 1911, the Kennel Club, the A.B. Basketball Team Champions and Flat Creek Basketball fans. Also in the collection is a photograph of Sullivan Creek in 1909 and of Ernest Foster and his sled team. The Circle City Hot Springs folder includes pictures of the Hot Springs building, and groups pictures in front of Hot Springs, as well as a picture of Zipp and Davis's Pack Train and of Discovery City, Otter Creek, Alaska. The miscellaneous folder contains postcards of sled dogs, the W.J. Row Transfer, and several pictures of people, including a young girl, and a group of men and women. Please see photo list for specific photograph information.
