TITLE: George Alexander Spangler Photographs

COLLECTION NUMBER: B2013.060

OVERVIEW OF THE COLLECTION

Dates: circa 1905-1944

Extent: 61 items

Language and Scripts: The collection is in English.

Name of creator(s): George Alexander Spangler, R. Pepper, Jasper Jones

Administrative/Biographical History:
George Alexander Spangler came to Alaska from California around 1906 and mined around Katalla. He later began work on the construction of the Copper River & Northwestern Railway. He returned Outside to Denver, where he worked as a civil engineer on highway construction projects.

Scope and Content Description:
The collection consists of 61 black-and-white photographs of Katalla, Cordova, Eska Creek, and Sitka, Alaska; Copper River & Northwestern Railway construction; and scenes in Northern California and Montana, created or collected by George Alexander Spangler. Of note are three photographs of a pile driver at Katalla damaged in 1907 by “Bruner’s dynamiters;” M. W. Bruner was the head of the Alaska-Pacific Railway & Terminal Co., a bitter rival of the C.R.N.W. Ry. Also included are two photographs documenting voter turnout in Cordova for the election of the first Alaska territorial delegate to Congress, Spangler noting support for John “Jack” Corson who was running against James Wickersham.

Arrangement: Arranged by location into Alaska and Outside, then chronologically.
