TITLE: Mayor's Office Photographs

COLLECTION NUMBER: B2013.074

OVERVIEW OF THE COLLECTION

Dates: circa 1964-1983

Extent: 2 linear feet; 4 boxes

Language and Scripts: The collection is in English.

Administrative/Biographical History:

The City of Anchorage and the Greater Anchorage Area Borough merged in 1975 to form the Municipality of Anchorage, and in 1978 "Project 80s" was begun to improve infrastructure and spur urban development.

Scope and Content Description:

The collection consists of 1290 35mm slides, 3 transparencies, and 41 print photographs of Anchorage and its environs. The collection spans the approximate dates of 1964 post-earthquake through most of 1983. The contents consist of 35mm slides beginning in 1964 (in the form of an Anchorage Chamber of Commerce presentation made up of Para Vue commercial slides boosting Anchorage in its recovery efforts post-earthquake), continuing with slides probably taken by staff from the Municipality beginning prior to the slide mounting date of December 1965, and continuing through Project 80s initial planning and development efforts. The end timeframe coincides with the early beginning of the administration of Mayor Tony Knowles, with the last identifiable date of 8/8/83 as a date stamp on several slides of a ground breaking (Tray 4). The box of color transparencies and prints (B4) most likely are from the early '70s due to several clues from the picture contents.

The slide collection is organized in 8 trays. Trays 1 and most of Tray 2 are organized with cardboard dividers specifically by the date stamp on the slide mount indicating development date, not exposure date (i.e., "Sep75 p6"). Within this initial date-stamp organization, there are often additional subject-matter designations penciled on the cardboard divider (e.g., "July 73 p7 Little Campbell Lake", "Jun75 p9 planting Park Strip", etc.). By the end of Tray 2, most of the slides are of plastic mounts with no date stamp apparent on the mount. The organization then begins mainly by non-dated subject matter (e.g., "n.d. Museum", "n.d. parks") that continues in Trays 3, 4 and 5.

Trays 6, 7 & 8 are commercial presentation slides with a particular theme (post-earthquake development, Project 80s overviews, etc.), akin to a PowerPoint presentation of the day. Though many of these, due to the apparent poor quality of the development process, are faded and otherwise unremarkable, they nonetheless present a record of the official mindset and ethos of the period's public and business entities.

In general, the slides mostly represent the day-to-day activities, many construction and development oriented, that occur in the life of a city government. These include pictures of often unidentified road construction, utility work, or other construction activities. Numerous slides show various ground-breaking ceremonies or public outdoor commemorations of various functions and activities, these being from the administrations of Mayors George Sullivan and Tony Knowles. There are other slides of unidentified natural scenes including various lakes around the city, and areas of the hillside with the Chugach Mountains in the background (some of these appear to be documenting beginning or on-going residential growth in these areas). Similarly, there are a number of aerial perspectives mostly of downtown Anchorage and environs (Ship Creek, Government Hill, Elmendorf, etc.), probably from the late 1970s and early 1980s.

Arrangement: By format, chronologically, and by subject. See Scope and Content note.

ADMINISTRATIVE INFORMATION

Acquisition and Appraisal Information

Transferred from the Mayor's Office to the Museum by Chris Kosinski, Assistant Communications Director. A quick internet search found that he was in this position from 1984-1993, which puts date parameters around the transfer. Accessioned by archives staff in 2013.

Processing Note

Slides removed from original binders and carousels. 130 slides discarded for quality or duplication. Processing project report available in accession files.

- .527-534 – [1976 Bicentennial celebration. Public outdoor ceremony with military uniforms, flags, on some parade ground/field; ‘Anchorage 76’ logo. ‘July 76’ marked on most slides]
- .535-544 – [HSS Montreal July 3, 1976. On board ship, with public tours. Docking location not identified. Slides stamped ‘July 76’]
- .545-554 – [Museum sculpture unveiling Sept 1979. Unveiling of ‘Homage to the Salmon’ by artist William Kimura in on September 9, 1979 [see Sept. 1979 Museum newsletter]; Mayor George Sullivan dedicating with other dignitaries, in front of old museum. Other slides show statue and a background banner near entrance to museum reads ‘Vasarely Sept 5 through October 8’; helps date these pictures to these dates in 1981 when exhibit was happening (see museum newsletter Sept. 1981).
- .555-584 – [Chitose tour Sept. 1979. Three events: (1) a ceremony at some Japanese memorial/tomb; 100 or so mostly Japanese participants; (2) Small Japanese garden outside unidentified downtown modern Anchorage building, with sign saying garden presented to Anchorage by Japan Airlines; (3) Port of Wakkanai reception, with Tony Knowles (Mayor 1981-1987), Japanese and other dignitaries, and gift exchange, probably in Wakkanai, Japan. Chitose, Japan sister city of Anchorage]
- .585-671 – [The Mayor dedications, parties, and visitors. Various, sundry events, 2 with Mayor George Sullivan (with Head Start, and portrait picture); rest with Mayor Tony Knowles, and official portraits. Mostly ‘81-Aug ‘83 (date stamp on one slide 8/8/83), including: ‘We Are High on Government Hill’; planting trees; breaking ground for new buildings; Alaska Railroad Week; Tie a Yellow Ribbon remembering Iran hostages; large C5 military transport plane named ‘Municipality of Anchorage’ at Elmendorf. Continued in next box]
- .601 – [Mayor Tony Knowles at right, speaking with uniformed police officers and others at indoor event; in 2014, policeman in center tentatively identified as Dave Parker]
- .604 – [Mayor Tony Knowles, left, speaking with African American family at indoor event; in 2014, people tentatively identified as Jim Posey and wife]

B1/B4

Misc. plans, maps, including: downtown multi-purpose center (off 2nd Street to the south near L; with a 'heritage center' concept); Ship Creek overlook; Nordic Recreation and Sports Park; Snowmachine Track; Potter-McHugh Park Recreation Plan' 1970, with a tramway to large overlook; Bikeway and skiing plan maps; funding charts; etc.]

.858-.870 – [Non Alaskan places. Jan 80p16. 5 slides of Lake Placid Olympics arena and schematics of developments; 8 of developments in Baltimore, Sweden, Italy of commercial city venues. Since taken prior to 1979 and Project 80s, perhaps used as examples for Project 80s designs and construction bids]

.871-.877 – [Construction 1981. Nov 81p6. Probably of sports arena and early construction; of Mayor Sullivan with white hard hat reading 'Mayor Sullivan' along with Tony Knowles with hardhat reading 'Mayor-Elect'. Construction already started, so not a groundbreaking ceremony]

.878-.912 – [Commercial slides. Widely dated example of commercial slides by Anchorage photo shops of the time, including:

- Stewarts Photo Shop, probably from later 1970s

- Mac's Photo Service. All duplicates of originals with different development dates (1 labeled 'From Mac's Photo Shop before quake'); however, all 5 photos are probably before quake from dates of cars and construction. Aerials stamped October 10, 1975, one with Oct. 15, 1973
- Arctic Circle Enterprises, of 'Alyeska Village Set No. 33', by Nancy Simmerman. Commercial 'Native Alaska Set No 2'. Washed out, typical early Alaska Native tourist photos.
- Third Eye Photography, Girdwood, of Alyeska.
- Kenneth G. Kard – Focus Photo. Misc Anchorage shots
- George Herben Photography. Aerials looking south from refining and Ship Creek dock area.
- Alyeska Pipeline – PS 5049-3. Above ground pipeline (unknown location), no photographer credit]

 - .906 – [aerial view of underground tanks being installed along body of water; in 2014, identified as sewage treatment on Point Woronzof]
- .913-.1022 – [Project 80s blueprints, plans, title slides 10/83. Project 80s presentation slides. From slide subject matter, most slides probably presentation in 1980s or 1981, prior to any building being started, and prior to vote on Project 80 funding (some 'Vote for. . .' slides). B1/B6

- .981-.1022 – [continued from last box]
- .1023-.1187 – [Para-Vue 1964. Commercially produced slide presentation sponsored by Anchorage chamber of Commerce, 1964. Many pictures appear pre-earthquake, but the entire presentation is about post-earthquake (includes earthquake pictures). Perhaps prepared in 1964 to boost city after quake, to encourage business and people that all was well. (Note: includes two pictures of Foam Built City Model, which also appears in Box 6 'CCC Downtown Model'). Also, one interesting picture titled 'Alaska Defense' with the caption 'General and Friend', with the 'friend' being Secretary McNamara. Slides faded and washed out. Some good slides with a summary of worker wages (Engineer $900/month; Secretary $400/mo); and living costs (Unfurnished 2br apartments $160-$220/month); etc. Continued in next box]

- .1104-.1187 – [continued from last box]

.1188-.1290 – [Para-View, no date, 6AF. Mostly of places outside of Anchorage, including other cities (Fairbanks, Juneau, Ketchikan, Kodiak, Seldovia, Sitka); some collage layouts. Mostly an Alaska overview with noticeable lack of Native representation. Not in original organization for a presentation, so perhaps bits and pieces of other presentations, or ones not used. From contents, pictures probably from between 1971-1973. Continued in next box]

.1246-.1290 – [continued from last box]

Transparencies

.1291-.1292 – [good early 1970s aerials of downtown Anchorage]

.1293 – [early Sydney Lawrence Auditorium]

Prints

.1294-.1335 – [Lake Hood; Flag day or similar celebrations with color guard, on park strip(?); children in sack races, beach play at some unidentified lake; Delaney Park and Rose Garden; All American City sign, flagpole park; other city flower gardens]
