Administrative/Biographical History:
William M. Svensson was born May 20, 1918, in Aarhus, Denmark, and immigrated with his family to Seattle, Washington, in 1925. He received his bachelor’s degree in architecture from the University of Washington in 1941. Shortly after graduating, Svensson traveled to Anchorage, Alaska, with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to work on the design of buildings for Fort Richardson. In 1943, he was commissioned into the U.S. Navy as an ensign and taught aircraft and ship recognition in Washington, D.C., and El Centro, California. He was discharged from the Navy as a lieutenant in 1946.

From 1946-1948, Svensson served as a designer with Naramore, Bain, Brady and Johanson in Seattle; he then served as a designer with Bliss Moore and Associates before establishing his own architectural consulting business in 1950. He and his wife operated the Palace Hotel, in the historic Captain H.L. Tibbals Building in Port Townsend, Washington, from 1976-1987.
An accomplished artist, Svensson’s work has been displayed at the Ballard Hospital, the Louise Matske Gallery in Seattle, Liz’s Loft in Port Townsend, and in San Miguel, Mexico. He also wrote an award-winning weekly column for the Ballard News Tribune, “Ballard and Beyond,” from 1991-1993.
