TITLE: George Louis Oakley Slides

COLLECTION NUMBER: B2016.024

OVERVIEW OF THE COLLECTION

Dates: 1951-1953

Extent: 122 items

Language and Scripts: The collection is in English.

Name of creator(s): George Oakley

Administrative/Biographical History:

Coast Guard Air Station Annette was established in 1944 as a refueling location for aircraft. During World War II, a squadron of Canadian fighter planes, No. 115, was stationed at Annette, along with American forces. The station was transferred to Sitka in 1977.¹

George Oakley was an aviator stationed at the United States Coast Guard station on Annette Island from October 1951 to the summer of 1953. His wife was a nurse, and the family lived in military housing on the island during his tour. For more family information, see donor correspondence in the collection accession file.

Scope and Content Description:

The collection consists of 122 small format color slides of Air Station Annette, Metlakatla, Ketchikan, and other southeast Alaska locations, taken by George Oakley between October 1951 and summer 1953. For more information, see Detailed Description of Collection.
