DESIGN WEEKEND SCHEDULE

+

Explore the ways design makes our lives more livable, from products to buildings to ideas. Design Weekend is for everyone interested in creative ways of thinking, making and building community.

Meet with local and international designers and people who simply make cool stuff. Participate in a project to help create and define a visual identity for Anchorage. Check out the product fair. For design professionals, there will be ways to connect with each other and the community.

IDENTITY

FRI 9.22

Branding and design empowers place, people, and the future. This day focuses on design professionals and highlights our assets that make up our shared identity.

SPOOR

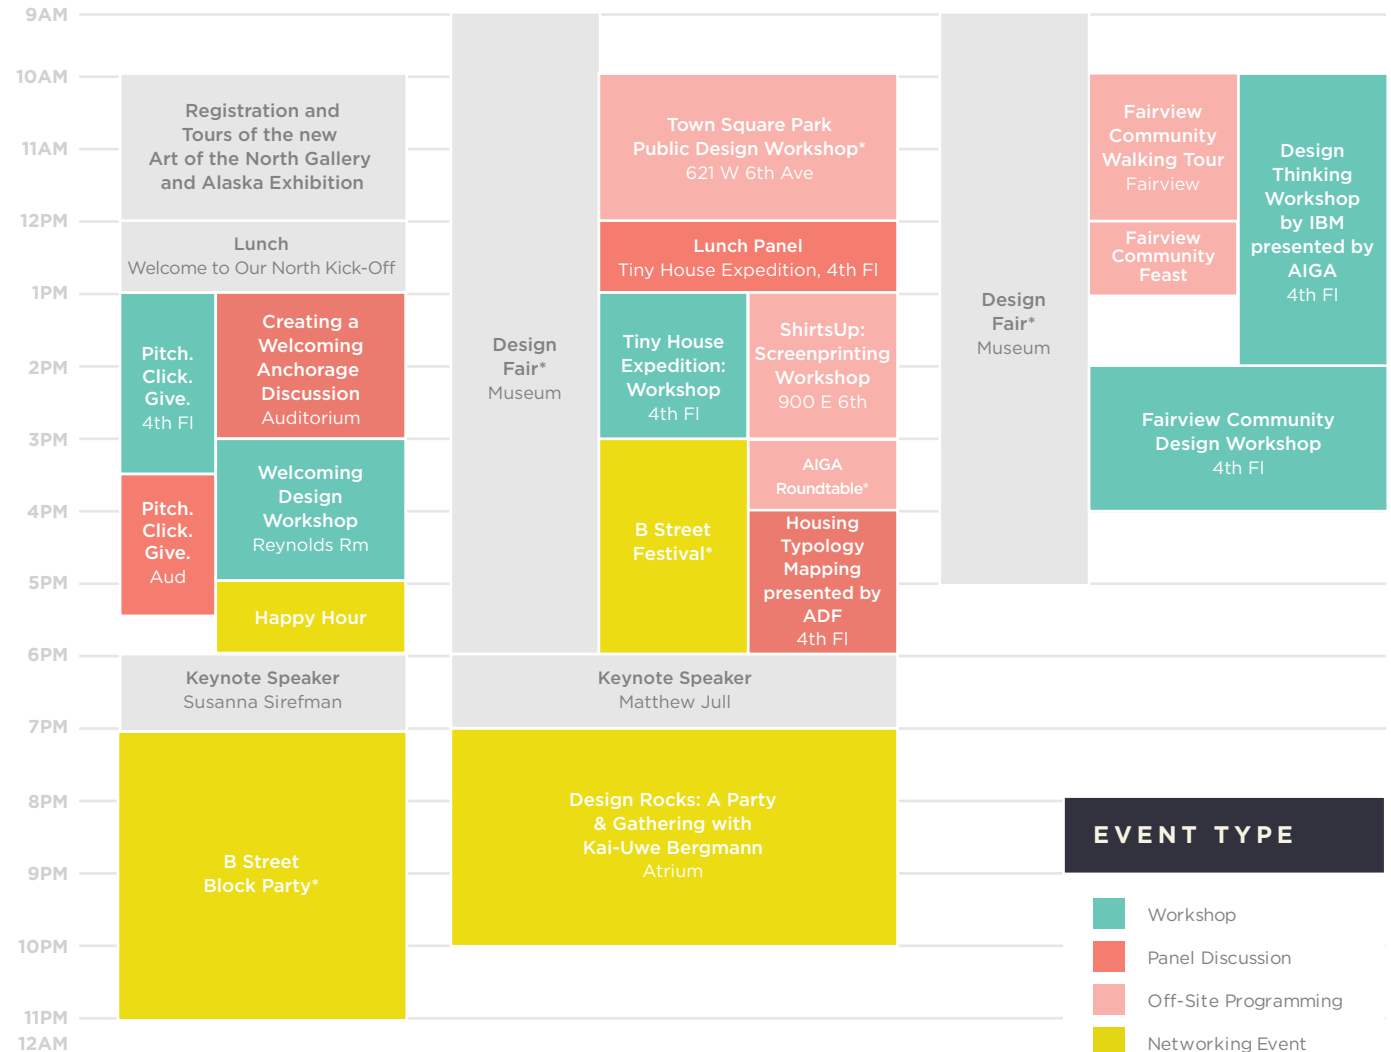

SAT 9.23

Everyone needs a place to call home. "Spoor" focuses on the various types of housing in a local and global context. From the Tiny House movement to inventive mega-housing projects, designers are exploring new typology and techniques that residents call home. This event coincides with the Third-Annual Welcoming Week. Free Museum admission all day.

TREAD

SUN 9.24

Small footprints and neighborhood communities can make an impact on a city-wide, nationwide, and global scale. This day explores how design principles and strategies can be incorporated on a small scale to make a big impact, with a series of programs focused on the Fairview neighborhood.
